

Measurement review: geometry flags and large-object influence

Zero geometry is retained and requires image review. Large objects are not automatically artifacts.
Area concentration helps explain why area-weighted overlap can differ from the typical-object result.