

Resolution-support tradeoff: how much of each section remains visible?

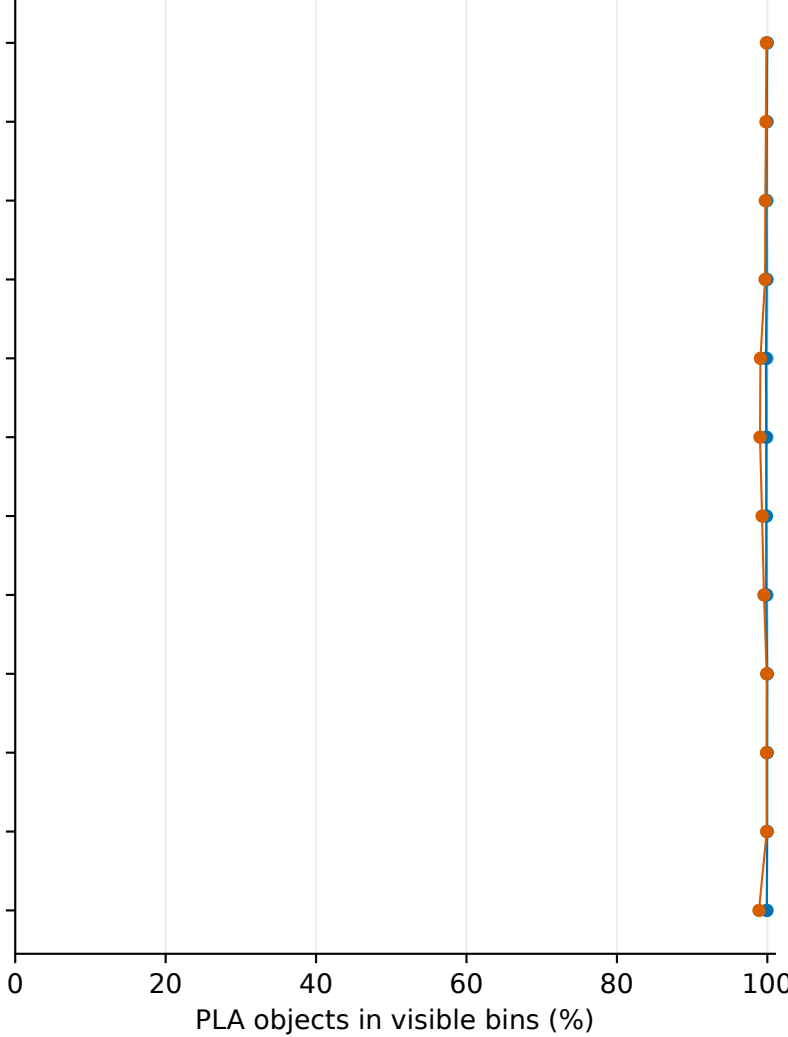

500-unit bins

1000-unit bins

2000-unit bins

Finer spatial bins contain fewer objects. Visibility thresholds control display support, not statistical significance. Use these curves alongside the atlas; a changing map can reflect binning and support rather than a biological change.